First Reading: Revelations 7:2-4, 9-14

John recounts for us the details of his vision. An angel bearing the seal of the living God demands that the land and sea not be destroyed; huge crowds stand before the throne of the Lamb crying out that salvation comes from God; angels gathered round and praised God; an elder questions John and explains that those dressed in white are the ones who have survived the great period of trial.

Second Reading: 1 John 3:1-3

Once again John speaks to us of love. He points out to us the great love that the Father has for us by allowing us to be called children of God. John explains that the world doesn't recognize us because it never recognized Jesus. Our future will be revealed to us and in that light we shall see him as he is.

Gospel: Matthew 5:1-12a

When Jesus saw the crowds of people he went up to the mountainside gathered his disciples around him and began to teach them. This lesson in love has come to be known to us as the great "Sermon on the Mount" or "The Beatitudes."

ALL SAINTS

“Beloved, see what love the Father has bestowed on us that we may be called children of God. Yet so we are. The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God’s children now; what we shall become has not been revealed. We do know that when it is revealed we shall become like him, for we shall see him as he is....for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.”

The day we can call our own. It is ours for we are on the way to heaven, our destiny. It is ours for we can choose the person who models for us the path to holiness. It is ours, for God has called us to a life of holiness.

Our church in this modern era asks us to learn the way of modern saints, as Saint John 23rd or Saint John Paul II. We learn from the holiness of martyrs like Blessed Oscar Romero or the mercy of Blessed Teresa of Calcutta.

What made them who they are? They tried to live what Jesus taught. They were people of the Beatitudes. His teaching on the poor, in spirit, those striving for justice, seeking holiness, are the marks we use to see if we are on the path to sainthood.

This is our moment. We have only one life and it calls us to holiness, to be saints. This is our moment to respond and redirect our lives. There is nothing wrong in being a saint.

UNA FRESCA PERSPECTIVA DE LAS LECTURAS DOMINICALES

SU PALABRA HOY por el Reverendo William J. Reilly

Todos Santos 1 de noviembre de 2015

“Queridos míos, desde ahora somos hijos de Dios, y lo que seremos no se ha manifestado todavía. Sabemos que cuando se manifieste, seremos semejantes a él, porque lo veremos tal cual es... porque a ellos les pertenece el Reino de los Cielos.”

Podemos decir que este es nuestro día. Es nuestro ya que vamos en camino al cielo, nuestro destino. Es nuestro pues podemos escoger a la persona que nos guía al camino de la santidad. Es nuestro, puesto que Dios nos ha llamado a una vida santa.

Nuestra iglesia en esta era moderna nos pide que conozcamos el camino de santos contemporáneos, tales como San Juan XXIII o San Juan Pablo II. Aprendemos de la santidad de mártires como el bendito Oscar Romero o la bondad de la bendita Teresa de Calcuta.

¿Quién los hizo así? Ellos intentaron vivir lo que Jesús les enseñó. Ellos eran personas de las Bienaventuranzas. Sus enseñanzas sobre los pobres, en espíritu, aquellos tratando de alcanzar justicia, buscando la santidad, son las medidas que utilizamos para chequear si estamos en el camino a la santidad.

Este es nuestro momento. Tenemos sólo una vida y nos llama a la santidad, a ser santos. Este es nuestro momento para responder y redirigir nuestras vidas. Ser santo no es nada malo.
